

Do you work at an institution where your students are coming from different cultures?

Do you need to solve timing problems of your courses on a daily basis?

Are you in search of information on good practices for cooperation in developing courses together with other institutions?

REVE Training Seminars on Virtual Mobility

We invite you to take part in REVE (Real Virtual Erasmus) seminars on Virtual Mobility together with your colleagues from all over Europe!

The REVE seminars are real-time online seminars with the active participation of experts on Virtual Mobility. Each seminar will start with one hour "Flashmeeting" videoconference session including introduction to the topic of the day, presented by an expert. The videoconference session will be followed by moderated discussion on web discussion forum. Each seminar can be attended separately.

In November 2006, the REVE project (<http://reve.europace.org>) organises 3 seminars for you on three Wednesdays starting at 10.00 CET (9.00 GMT, 11.00 EET):

Wednesday 8.11 Experiences of Virtual Erasmus courses and programs

Wednesday 15.11 Types of Virtual Erasmus courses

Wednesday 22.11 How to adapt your course to local circumstances?

You can participate at the seminars from your desk for free! All other technical support is provided by the REVE team.

Interested? This is how you can take part:

Please register at least two days before the session you want to follow, on the website of the 'Virtual Mobility Manual' <http://reve.europace.org/drupal>

We are looking forward to meeting you in the seminars!

For more information, please take a look at <http://reve.europace.org>

REVE

Real Virtual Erasmus